NAME OF AGENCY: Protection Report Center

TYPE OF SERVICES AVAILABLE: The Protection Report Center receives calls from those who are concerned that a child may be neglected or abused. The Center has a toll-free number that may be called twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year. The center operates from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m., 7 days a week. The PRC's voice mail will instruct reporters to contact their local law enforcement or 911 in the event of an emergency. Any non emergency messages can be left on voice mail after 11 a.m.. All calls will be returned after 7:a.m. the following morning.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS: The caller should be prepared to give information such as: the age of the children; the location of the children; the parents names; why the caller is concerned; how the caller became aware of the incident; and what prompted the caller to contact the Protection Report Center.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: When a concerned person calls the Center, he or she will speak with an individual who is qualified and prepared to take needed information about the caller's concern. The Center determines if the report of suspected neglect or abuse meets the conditions of possible neglect and abuse, thereby giving the agency legal authority to investigate. The Center will determine if the report should be looked into by the local area SRS office, local law enforcement, or both. THE LAW PROHIBITS DISCLOSURE OF THE NAME OF A PERSON WHO REPORTS SUSPECTED CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT. However, the Center may ask for a caller's name in the event that additional information is needed.

NAME OF AGENCY: WIC Program

TYPE OF SERVICES AVAILABLE: WIC is a special supplemental food program for women, infants, and children. The goal of WIC is to prevent or correct health problems caused by poor nutrition, by providing nutritious foods and nutrition education. WIC clinics sometimes have immunizations, fluoride treatments, and representatives from many other area programs available.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS: WIC is for pregnant, breastfeeding, and post-partum women; infants; and children up to age five. These persons must meet income guidelines and be at nutritional risk as determined by a WIC health professional. A person is usually qualified on the program for six (6) months. After that, they may reapply if still eligible.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Call the Cherokee County Health Department to make a WIC certification appointment. The certification will include a review of income and residency, a simple blood test to check for anemia, a review of foods eaten, a review of health history, and measuring and recording height and weight.
